

CFE SUMMER
WRITING
GROUP
PROGRAM
2020

Summer Writing Group (SWG) brings together faculty members from all disciplines and career stages in small peer groups that meet regularly throughout the summer.

The program provides a supportive and fun atmosphere that helps faculty members overcome obstacles to their productivity.

Three-quarters of participants report greater summertime productivity with the SWG than without it.

ORIENTATION SESSION AND KICKOFF

“That’s Impossible!”:
Making Time to Write
When There Isn’t Any

With Suzanne Lye (Classics)

May 1, 12:00-2:00 PM

Via Zoom

SWG SPECIAL TOPICS SESSIONS (12:00-1:30 PM)
and CELEBRATION

May 14: Developing a Habit of Writing

May 29: Writing With and Writing As an International Scholar

June 26: Think Research Impact Before Publication

July 16: Publishing Your Work

Sept 11: SWG Celebration / Writers Share Successes and Challenges

For registration information, visit the CFE website (cfe.unc.edu)

For more information, contact SWG 2020 organizer Darin Knapp (darin_knapp@med.unc.edu)